The "Ridge" Organizes Large Summer Colony Meets Its Problems

As reported in the Press of its last issue, the Rustic Ridge Association which is Northfield's largest summer colony, has held its annual meeting for a review of its activities, to plan for the work of next season and to elect its board of directors and name its committees as well as choose its officers.

The summer sojourners in this community comprise a large part of its population and the value of their properties return a considerable amount to the tax collector. They must be given a fair consideration by the citizens and voters of the town in improvements.

The officers of the Rustic Ridge Association for the coming year are: President, Dr. Arthur L. Berger of Syracuse, N. Y.; Vice-president, Dr. W. H. Bollman of Lancaster, Pa.; Treasurer, Rev. W. H. DesJardins of Newark, N. J.; Recording secretary, Dr. David O. Cowles of Orange, N. J. and corresponding secretary, Miss Therese Simar of New York city.

Road committee: Thomas C. Duncan, George W. Carr, Dr. W. C. Atkins, Rev. R. A. Heydenrich, Howard S. Harris and Dr. Walter Chapin.

Social committee: Miss Ruth P. Card, Miss Maud Curtis, Miss Gertrude Lauber, Miss Mable Livingston, Miss Shirley Wright, Miss Ruth Johnson, Mrs. Charles Crane and Carlton L'Hommiedie.

Local representative of the Association is William F. Hoehn, to whom all matters of business activity should be referred.

Woodruff Road, which now runs north and south through Rustic Ridge tract on the former Rustic Way and Rockside road has been considerably improved as a town road and any section of the summer colony can be reached from North Lane or from Myrtle Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Parker and two sons, Seth and Edgar, spent last week enjoying a vacation at Kennebunkport, Maine.

Julia Austin Resigns High School Teacher Removes To Vermont

Miss Julia B. Austin, a teacher for many years at the local High school, recently tendered her resignation to the school board which was accepted with much regret. Miss Austin taught Latin, history and Economics and leaves to accept a position to teach Social Sciences at the Spaulding High school in Barre, Vermont. She was well known and popular here and resided with her mother on South Main Street. She was a member of the Fortnightly club, the Teachers association and had served a term as a member of the trustees of Dickinson library. She was born in Margaretville, N. Y., where she received her early education and graduated from the high school. She went to Middlebury college

Will Attract Visitors Franklin County Fair To Be Held Soon

Swinging into its 96th year, with nearly a century of successful showings behind it, the Franklin County Fair will open at the fairgrounds at Greenfield for its annual two day, two night presentation on September 11, 12 and 13.

When the ticket takers assume their places at 4:00 P.M. on the opening day, everything inside the spacious grounds will be ready. Throughout the summer crews of workmen have been busy placing the buildings, equipment and grounds in perfect shape. Never were the grounds in more perfect condition.

The flood of entries in all departments assures that every space will be taken. Once again the policy of the Franklin County Agricultural Society is justified, in maintaining its Fair as an outstanding agricultural exposition. For the past several years, county farmers have been steadily improving their dairy herds and the Fair this year will have very extensive showings of cattle in each of the breeds, Milking Shorthorns, Jerseys, Holsteins, Guernseys and Ayrshires, for which prizes are offered.

The poultry house will reflect the increasing interest in egg production as an important factor in the world food supply. The rapidly growing interest in sheep will be noted in the large number of animals in the group. The addition of Cheviots in the sheep classes will add much interest.

As it looks now every space in the round house will be filled to overflowing. Numerous Granges have indicated that they would again vie with each other in the marvelous displays which they have always created. Victory gardeners will compare the fruits of their gardens with that of professional farmers. The fruit growers will display their finest products. The canning exhibition will again be the largest in the State, if not the largest in all of New England.

Junior department activities are promising to be the greatest ever this year. The Boy Scouts will hold their annual encampment and demonstration area in their Mohawk Village. The ever popular wild life display will again be the center of attraction for young and old and the cattle judging will make the judging ring a center of keen competition.

But the Fair won't be all work and no play. The Midway will be filled with all the new and old rides, games and attractions. An extensive vaudeville program will be presented each night and each afternoon on the stage in front of the grandstand. The Armed Services will have displays as well as so the Salvage section of the WPB, the War Bond division of the Treasury department and other divisions and departments of outstanding interest.

New Members Added To The Fortnightly Change In Officers

The Executive committee of the Fortnightly, recently held in Alexander Hall was presided over by Mrs. George Sheldon, the president and many important matters were considered. Mrs. George W. Carr tendered her resignation as First Vice-President and Mrs. Leon Russell was named in her stead. Mrs. Manuel Lopez was chosen to fill the vacancy on the Music committee. The completed program list will soon be issued from the printer and sent to all members and the first session of the Fortnightly will be on Friday October 6.

The committee elected the following persons as members of the club:

Mrs. J. S. McGavren, Mrs. Harvey Jack, Mrs. Leslie Martin, Mrs. Joseph Letwinsky, Mrs. Roy Lanphear, Mrs. Lawrence Quinn, Mrs. David B. Hammond, Mrs. Philip Mann, Jr., Mrs. Fred Avery, Mrs. Leon Whitmore, Mrs. Frederick Chapin, Mrs. Harold Tenney, Mrs. John Mroczek, Mrs. Willis Parker, Mrs. Galen Stearns, Mrs. Leonard Lanphear, Mrs. Fred Stone, Mrs. Louis Abbey, Mrs. Fred Kelley, Mrs. Alvin Porter, Miss Alice Drake, Mrs. Alvin Scott, Mrs. Edward Tenny, Mrs. Bernard Whitney, Mrs. Arthur Eddy, Mrs. Helen Bassett, Mrs. Hubert Eastman, Mrs. George Bronson, Mrs. Cora Ware, Miss Marjorie Ware and Mrs. Carl Comp-ton.

Birdsall Brothers Both Are Ensigns

With the commissioning of Richard D. Birdsall, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Birdsall of Mount Hermon, as an Ensign in the Naval Reserve after graduating from the midshipman's school at Cornell, he has followed the experience of his brother, Robert F. Birdsall, who was commissioned an Ensign several months ago, after concluding his studies at Annapolis. Robert is an instructor at Annapolis and Richard has just reported to Columbus, Ohio, for assignment.

Lovers of real old fashioned horse racing will find the Fair a mecca of delight. Early entries assure that a full two day program of fast heats will be seen. The track is in splendid condition.

Draft oxen from four states will be in the drawing ring Tuesday morning engaged in the sharpest contest in years. The Franklin County Fair has become known for its draft animal classes and exhibitors are always anxious to show at Greenfield. In the draft horse classes the early entries are largest ever and the winners are determined on Wednesday will be able to claim the right to the title of New England champions.

Pre-Fair tickets are already on sale throughout the county.

At the insistence of the Office of Price Administration's Field Operations Officer, the local rationing board office is to be open to the public on the following hours only: Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, from 9:00 A.M. to 12 noon, and from 2:00 to 4:00 P.M.; on Thursdays from 9:00 A.M. to noon, and from 7:00 P.M. to 9:30 P.M. on Fridays the office will not be open to the public. Since there is a great pressure of work, and the office staff has been reduced, the public is urged to cooperate in observing these hours.

Many Visit Museum

Many visitors called at the headquarters of the Historical Society during its opening on two days recently and enjoyed the many exhibits which were displayed. There is now a varied collection and much new material has been added, perhaps those interesting the people most being the historical articles relating to Northfield and its development through the years. During the recent openings, Curator Joseph R. Colton was assisted by a group of members who explained in detail the many exhibits and they did their task in an effective manner. The hope is expressed that the Museum will be opened more frequently in the future.

The movies, which have been provided in town hall every Friday evening during the past year have met with success, both in attendance and showing and have been called real local morale builders. The members of the committee who have been in charge deserve a than kyou for their labors. Now that there has been a reorganization, Gene Cullum has assumed the responsibility of future showings and the community can show its appreciation by a generous patronage. Atop Mt. Sugar Loaf

You couldn't find a Postmaster in town on Wednesday, August 30. It was their time off to enjoy a summer picnic meeting of the Western Massachusetts Postmasters' association which was held on the top of Mount Sugar Loaf at South Deerfield a state reservation visited each year by many people. There were addresses by the "big wigs" and a sumptuous feast of good things. Anyway all report a most interesting visit and they are back again at their offices to serve the public. Merritt C. Skilton of the East Northfield postoffice is secretary of the association.

Henry Knight, area price specialist from Springfield, visited the local price panel at their regular meeting at the ration board on Thursday, August 17, and discussed many of the problems presented. Blotek, Mrs. Dorothy Hammond and Mrs. Elizabeth Holton, working together with Louis Abbey as community service member to keep prices below ceiling level.
